SCIENCE COMES ALIVE!

This week, our Vikings in grade 9 STEP Science were studying the effects of varying the amount of baking soda added to vinegar on the amount of carbon dioxide produced. They collected the carbon dioxide in a balloon and measured its circumference and then digitally graphed their results.

LOCKERBY

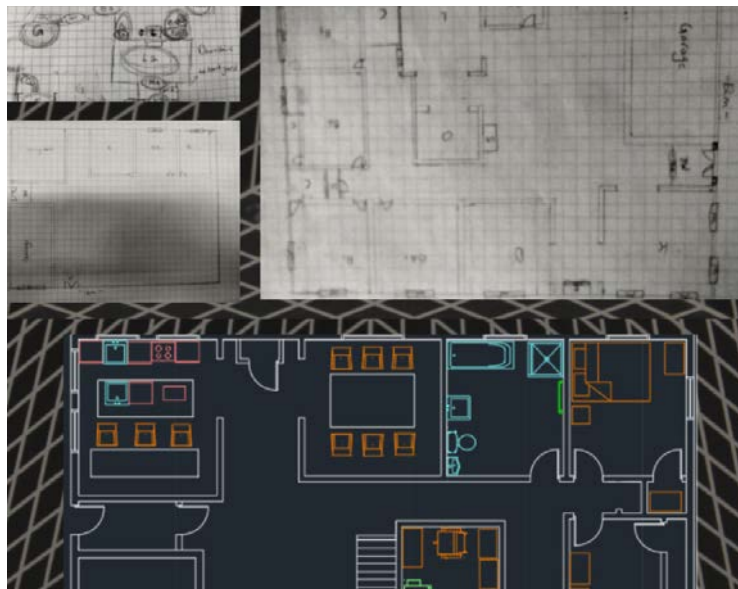

THE SCHOOL OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

THE ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN PROCESS

By Josh M.:

In Mr. Smith's grade 10 Technological Design class, we have been learning many important things such as how to do bubble diagrams, basic house drawings, to scale house drawings, and how to use AutoCad. The bubble diagrams help us in the early stage of design because it is easy to make and it does not take it very long to make. Drawing scale diagrams is a very important skill because it will help you draw something small and possibly make it in real life with your drawing. Lastly, AutoCad helps with more than one type of design which will be good for all of the aspiring architects out there!

HEALTHY ACTIVE LIVING

Nothing new to see here...just Mr. Abols' Outdoor Education class making the most of the nice, sunny weather at the school!

STUDENT COUNCIL - MASKED DJ!

The first reveal of Lockerby Masked DJ happened this past Tuesday! Our very own Viking staff is now providing the morning music and clue packages throughout the week for the student body to figure out who the weekly mystery DJ is. Every Friday, homeroom classes are entering their guesses for a chance to win a semester ending prize. Last week's Masked DJ was...Mr. Smith!

MURDER MYSTERIES

This week in our Medical Technologies class, our senior Viking led their classmates through a murder mystery activity, where their peers had a chance to identify anatomical positions, body cavities, and body regions at crime scenes! Students also participated in the highly anticipated anatomical BINGO game on Friday!

CONGRATULATIONS MS. AUGENSTEIN!

The Viking Community would like to congratulate Ms. Augenstein on winning the Pete Beach NOSSA Award this year! The Pete Beach Award is given to an educator who consistently provides an impression of stability and optimism, one who enjoys the company, and the respect, of young people; one who embodies, and initiates by example, the highest traditions of the sportsperson; one who best typifies the true function of the teacher-coach - a source of discipline, a mentor, and a friend. Well deserved, Ms. Augenstein!

Post-Secondary Applications

Marks have been sent to Ontario colleges and universities. Students are asked to check their OCAS and OUAC accounts to ensure that all of their courses and marks have been transferred. Students should also be checking their individual post-secondary portals (i.e., Cambrian College and/or Laurentian University). Many of the schools have been providing details regarding additional requirements, incomplete applications, etc. Students must ensure that all of the necessary details for their application are complete. If you have any concerns please speak to Mrs. Beaudry or Ms. Baggs in Student Services.
